Looking Up

Once again, Colorado College has embarked on a new journey. Those who make the college what it is have returned. With some fear, the "freshcreatures" have arrived and are ready to accept the challenge of being a Tiger. Together, through involvement in activities, organizations, sports, and/or fraternities and sororities, we are ready to go "Straight to the Top." Hold on - it's going to be a bumpy ride!

Men's Soccer

"I never thought it would end like this." That was Senior All-American Rob Lipp's response to the Tigers' 5-0 Final Four loss, only the second loss of the season for CC, and one which was decidedly not indicative of the entire Colorado College campaign.

The NCAA Division III tournament semifinals defeat came at the hands of the Ohio Wesleyan Bishops, a squad that Tiger Head Coach Horst Richardson called a "veteran tourney team."

Led by seniors Ezra Bayles, Noah Epstein, Lipp, Ben Straley, and Jon Whitfield, Colorado College advanced farther in post-season play than any other Div. III Tiger squad ever has, in any sport.

Along the way, the Tigers set several school records, including most victories in a season (18), most playoff victories (3), best winning percentage (.863), longest winning and unbeaten streaks (14 and 18, respectively), and most goals tallied in a season (79).

Women's Soccer

It was a frustrating season for the women's soccer team: for the first time in four seasons they did not make the final four. But that was not all: they did not even make the playoffs.

With the loss of ten seniors, the team was young. The Lady Tigers were fortunate with their new players including junior Jill Jakowich. Jakowich, a transfer from rival North Carolina, along with first years Katie Shenk, Amy Snyder, and Rebecca Kernan helped rebuild the defensive backline.

Paula Mathias, another first year, and senior Tracy Lowe were strong offensive players. Senior Kris Zeits at goalkeeper was a vital part of the team. She ended the season as CC's all-time saves leader.

Senior Stacy Black also had impressive statistics in scoring, finishing in the top ten in the West Region.

The Tiger began the season ranked 19th but by the middle of the season had raised it to 12th. They won their first five games, were undefeated at home, and finished the season 10-3-3.

The Tigers missed the playoff by one team. The top two teams in each division go and then wildcards are selected. The league decided on a wildcard from a different division.

"In spite of [not making it to playoffs] we really did a lot better than expected," said first year Katie Shenk. "now we're focusing on next year. Even though seniors Kris, Tracy, and Stacy will be gone, we still have a strong base."

Football

The football season can be summed up in two words: unfulfilled potential.

On offense, the Tigers featured a multi-talented attack, engineered by quarterbacks Troy Knox and Josh Vitt. In the backfield with them were running backs Chuck Jones, Tim Hebert and John Lutz. The wide receivers were graced by former defensive back Jesse Yuran, tight end Doug Gryboski, and All-American Trevor Shettron. Blocking for the talented specialty crew were linemen Ben Fryer, Jesse Whitehead, Blair Berselli, Tyler Finn and newcomer Adam Chavez at center.

Fryer, a senior and Whitehead, a junior, were great inspiration to the younger members of the line.

The starting defense for the Tigers featured one of the best defensive lines in Division III football. Led by Colorado Defensive Player of the Year Todd "Amazing" Mays, the disciplined men of the line set the tone of play each game.

Mike Drum, Neil "Goober" Goluba, and Shawn "Horsehead" Mitchell played extremely well, but were overshadowed by the dominating play of Mays. All the defensive linemen credit Coach Steve Griffin for their aggressive attack.

The linebackers were led by senior R.J. Gallardo, and freshman Villi Tuaone. J.B. Bissel played well at linebacker, considering his broken leg. The outside linebackers Tony "Six Gun" Munoz and John Rodriguez were superb. In the backfield, Keith "Little Motor" Mottram was spritful, increasing his three year total of interceptions to fifteen. With the help of Larry Britton, Nik "Bud" Bailey and the reserves, the defense had many turnovers.

The team played tough all year, but came away with a 3-6 record, including two heart-breaking one point losses.

However, the team will keep much of its talent, so look out for them next year!

Men's Basketball

The success of the 1991-1992 men's basketball campaign produced many expectations to live up to for the 1992-1993 squad. Although this put a lot of pressure on the CC cagers, they were able to live up to many of the expectations, such as setting and resetting school records, while falling short on probably the most important goal: returning to the NCAA Division III tournament.

The Tigers posted a record of 17 wins and 8 losses for the season, at one point winning six in a row. The most crucial point in the season probably came for the Tigers during the first two weeks of February, when they traveled to Western State and New Mexico Highlands. CC was riding their six-game winning streak and looking toward the tournament, only a month away. The Tigers dropped those two important contests, the second only a five-point loss to Highlands, and with them their chances for receiving another bid to the Division III tourney. CC won three of its last four games, however it was not enough to offset the two crucial defeats.

The 1992-1993 season marked the end of some very successful careers at Colorado College, punctuated with record-setting performances. Senior Jason Valant leaves the Tigers after having obliterated the career scoring record. Valant finished with 1899 points, eclipsing the old mark by 747 points. Valant also owns marks for most career three-point field goals made (315) and career free throw percentage (.822).

Senior Rick Moore retires after setting many standards as well, including career rebounds (675). Moore is second on the career scoring list (1315), and owns the mark for career field goal percentage (.536).

Senior Eli Haskell finishes his CC stint as a guard known for his outside-shooting ability. Haskell finished second on the all-time three-pointers made list, with 593, and during the last game of his career, equaled his own mark of most three-pointers made in a single game (9).

Senior Aaron Griess leaves the Tigers owning the mark for most steals in a career, recording 131 thefts during his stay at Colorado College.
